SCHOOL DAYS OVER; VACATION IS HERE

Janesville Youngsters Welcome Arrival of Summer Play Spell With Shouts of Joy.

All aboard for the swimming pool, the pasture baseball diamond and other haunts of young America. With joyous shouts the youngsters in the city and throughout the city had aside their books and welcomed the arrival of the long summer vacation.

No sessions of the grammar schools were held this afternoon as the children were given a half holiday. This morning the promotion cards were distributed to those who had completed their work in satisfactory manner.

The high school students began their vacation last Tuesday as their examinations were completed earlier this year than usual. The seniors were the first to be given their liberty and the juniors, sophomores and freshmen followed in order.

For over two months the children of the graded schools as well as the high school students will be allowed to enjoy their vacation. Following the custom of previous years the school will open September 8th, the day after Labor day.

There were expressions of joy this morning when the promotion cards were given out which passed the pupils into higher grades. The students some wry faces, however, when those who failed learned that they were to be left behind their classmates because of their failure to complete the regular studies.

The three lower classes of the high school will not know for three or four weeks the result of their examinations as the reports will not be issued until then. With the coming of vacation local concerns will be annoyed by high school students who are seeking employment for the summer to secure enough money to spend their vacation weeks at one of the nearby lakes.

There has been a marked improvement over that of previous years from the standpoint of attendance. In the high school alone the number this year exceeded that of any previous year by twenty-five students. The reason for this was the unusual number in the freshmen class. Judging from the number who were promoted today from the eighth grades the number next year will equal that of last.

SUSPEND SENTENCE ON MARTIN GAGAN

Judge Maxfield Gives Prisoner "Last Chance" to Reform Ways.—Bicycle Rider Fined.

Sentence was suspended by Municipal Judge H. L. Maxfield on Martin Gagan for sixty days, in court this morning, on the recommendation of Attorney John Cunningham. Gagan was sentenced to the county jail for a term of six months for a charge of larceny, but Judge Maxfield, after a hearing, suspended the sentence, giving Gagan a chance to reform his ways.

Attorney S. G. Dunwiddie notified Gagan that the information in that the watches stolen by Gagan from the McCarty cafe were not of value enough to grant a charge of grand larceny against the defendant. This was granted by Judge Maxfield, and the charge changed to petty larceny. Gagan then waived his examination and entered a plea of guilty. In the plea for leniency Attorney Cunningham declared that punishment behind prison bars had failed to affect Gagan in mending his wayward habit, and it should be the duty of the court to endeavor to help the man find a new way to become a desirable citizen. That Gagan was not responsible for the crime committed was claimed because of his intoxicated condition. That liquor was entirely the cause of the crime was also argued, and that the trend of justice should not be prison stripes, but court to give the man a chance, to start anew, and better himself. Gagan is claimed, had taken the pledge for a period of five years.

District Attorney Dunwiddie argued that a term under the commitment law was the most effective way of having Gagan keep his pledge. Judge Maxfield adjourned the case for sixty days, suspending sentence with the agreement that Gagan obtain work and attend church regularly.

Mark Jones, a high school student, pleaded guilty to riding on the sidewalk, and was fined one dollar and costs.

"It's about time that violations stopped under this ordinance, and soon heavier fines will be given offenders," remarked Judge Maxfield, as he passed sentence upon Jones.

Fred Wagner, a transient, was arraigned on the charge of vagrancy, and was given ninety days on his plea of guilty. Wagner was arrested for "panhandling" on Milwaukee street by Policeman Brown.

MUCH OIL USED ON STREETS IN CITY

Fifty-Four Thousand Gallons of Oil Used by Superintendent of Streets P. J. Goodman.

Street oiling work was stopped for a short time yesterday, owing to the shortage of material, no cars having been received as expected this week. About fifty-four thousand gallons of oil were used and nearly as much will be required before the work is completed.

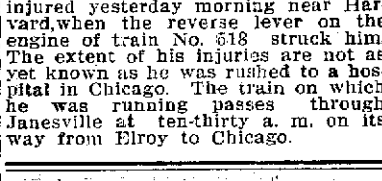

The results obtained are giving the officials excellent satisfaction, although the usual number of protests are heard from the property owners. Work on the west side is nearly completed and the heavy oil will be laid on the asphalt macadam streets in the third week next week if the car of oil ordered arrives.

The Gund Graham company is making rapid progress in the paving contract, having opened Carrington street to traffic. The workmen are grading and laying the stone on St. Lawrence avenue and Court streets this week. Crushed rubble and with stone foundation a base with the asphalt finish has been used on all the streets, forming an excellent pavement.

But a Spur.

FALSE PROMISES.

The promise has been made by those in power that our taxes next year will be less. That promise has been reiterated continuously since the advent of the present system of government in 1900. Bear in mind that, although the appropriations seem large each year in each particular department, it is a rare thing for the appropriation to be used for the entire appropriation. For example, the executive department in this regard, the last year used $1,490,211. In view of that, the last legislature appropriated for its use for the ensuing year $2,760,609. The state department last year cost $7,756,46. The appropriations for the ensuing year is $82,868. The state treasurer expended this last year $20,335,67, yet the appropriations for the ensuing year are $24,000, and 10 per cent of the license money collected with which to pay his sub-agents. The attorney general's department last year used $23,323.83. Yet for the ensuing year there is given to it to be expended $31,500. The insurance department expended last year $52,061.21. This year there is given it to expend $60,300 and all money collected by it.

Sufficient illustration for the executive departments. Now, as to the commissions:

The industrial commission last year, with its 133 persons drawing money from the state, used $89,018.16. This year it was given not only $120,000, but additional sums to bind and distribute the Blue Books and several minor appropriations. The tax commission, which we thought had grown to be quite large enough, with its 250 persons drawing money from the state, and using $157,000 of the people's money, in one bill (and there are others) is given $18,565 (together with all moneys collected by it under Sec. 1087.39 and other sections. The railroad commission, which we thought was pretty extravagant at $165,366.11, is given $183,000, and we are told by one of the commissioners that that isn't going to be sufficient. The dairy and food commission got along last year with $56,631.75. Yet in one section of the appropriation bill it is given $85,000. The civil service commission last year got along with $16,622.57. It is now given $22,000.

And we might go on down through the entire list, but the above commissions are a fair example and a fair illustration of the appropriations and expenses of all of the departments of the state as they are now made, for the benefit of the office-holder, to the detriment of the people. And with these appropriations in front of us and the sums given to each of these departments, how can we possibly believe that our taxes will be less? It is easy enough to promise, easy to plan that we will spend less money this coming year than the last, but when there is set aside for us to expend a great deal larger sum than was ever expended before in our life time, the ordinary common person will believe, and must believe, that those larger sums will be spent; and there is but two ways to get them—directly in state taxes, indirectly in taxing industries. And, good Mr. Voter, you know, and you will learn by bitter experience, that all those sums of money will be spent and you will have to pay.

The survey with all its pretended university—in other words, what we common people call investigations—in favor of economy, spent in 1913, $2,478,665.90. There is given to it for this year $2,865,000. Do you believe any of that amount will be left?

Does this look like less taxes? It may to the office-holder and theorist, but not to the taxpayer and every day worker.

Employees of the city have done considerable work in the past few weeks in cleaning up the streets and alleys of the city. Particularly this is true of the river banks, north and south of the Milwaukee street bridge. But it is useless work if the residents and business houses along these banks continue to dump their refuse and garbage into the river. It would not be permitted in any other part of the city and why permit such practices here?

Governor Hoard is most bitter in his attacks upon the wastefulness of the present state administration which has brought about the excessive taxation which is a noxious burden to all taxpayers. He knows whereof he talks and his words of wisdom are received for what they are worth, a hundred net. If there were more men like Hoard at work the problem of adjusting conditions would be easily arranged.

Where, oh where, is that baseball ground for the youngsters of the Fourth and Fifth ward? Would it not be much better to turn over a portion of the Fourth ward park to them for a playground than to have them "flipping cars" and otherwise indulging in dangerous pastimes? You can grow shrubs and trees anywhere if you plant them and care for them, but you can not grow healthy boys in restricted areas.

President Wilson has secured the passage of the Panama canal toll measure through the United States senate. It can not be called a purely democratic measure because there were a lot of republicans who voted for it and a lot of democrats who voted against it. However it has now passed the senate and is up to the house. Here Wilson still controls his democratic henchmen with a hand of iron and despite all Champ Clark can do it will pass through a whooping.

Mr. Pinchot would oust Mr. Perkins from control of the progressive party by force if necessary and Mr. Perkins politely tells Mr. Pinchot that he had better go way back and sit down, that he, Mr. Perkins, is the chairman of the party, not Mr. Pinchot, and that he, Mr. Perkins, knows what is good for his country better than any red-eyed reformer who seeks personal exaltation. Here is a nice start for a fair-sized row in the ranks of the reformers of the reformers.

The veterans of the civil war, and their allied societies, are just concluding a session at Madison. These old boys who wore the blue when wearing the blue meant hard marching, hard fighting and hard living, should be honored with every attention possible. They deserve it from a grateful generation or so that have followed them.

Today marks the end of the school year. The students of the high school completed their work earlier in the week but the graded schools finished today and from now until September the pupils will have a vacation period that will seem all too short when school is called again.

The Women's Federation, in session in Chicago, is having an awful time on the question of dress reform and suffrage. Still there is no politics in the whole gathering. Oh no. Nothing like that, but a lot of good, genuine "log-rolling" is going on just the same.

Bryan laughs at the report that his privilege of making a few extra dollars as a chautauqua speaker is to be curtailed by congressional enactment. Really it is only a bit of free advertising that the secretary enjoys without paying for it.

From now on the lake resorts will be favorite stopping places for the tired and weary who seek to escape the "heated term" of the summer months. The sample that has thus far been handed out is such that the genuine article when it arrives will be appreciated.

On The Spur of The Moment

SPUR OF THE MOMENT.

The Neighbor.
My neighbor who resides next door forsakes his downy couch at dawn, most cheerfully to mow his lawn, and rouses all of us at dawn.

My neighbor has a daughter who takes singing lessons, as girls do. She practices the morning long—Six weeks she's sung the same old song.

My neighbor has a raft of boys who make a most astounding noise. They play baseball and "one old cat." For racket there's some class to that.

My neighbor has three charming maids.
And you should hear the serenades The young men sing beneath the tower.

It doesn't matter at what hour.
A pianola, too, has he. He hits it up in greatest glee. He starts to playing it at eight; Till midnight he keeps up his gait.

My neighbor has a kid who yells from midnight on in frequent spells; He keeps on yelling until dawn; Then dad gets up and mows the lawn.

Performance is continuous.
But still the neighbor next to us is one of many on the nice old cat. For neighbors are most all alike.

Stung.
The sneak thief took a desperate chance and yanked the handsome handbag from the lady's hand as she entered the crowded street car. He had been watching that beautiful and expensive handbag for some time. As the woman screamed he jumped from the car and was quickly pursued by an ever-growing crowd, including three or four policemen. Faster and faster he ran, dodging around corners and doubling on his course until he finally evaded his pursuers. He sank down behind an ash barrel in an alley, entirely exhausted. When he had recovered his breath he began a careful invoice of the beautiful handbag. This is what he found:

One street car ticket, one powder puff, one sample lace, one club program, one bottle smelling salts, one ad clipped from newspaper, one bunch hairpins, one package of court plaster, one stick of chewing gum, one handkerchief, one door key, one safety pin, one letter from mail order house, one clipping concerning woman's suffrage, one 2-cent stamp, one deck of playing cards, one lace collar, one belt, one large button, one small button, one sample of sewing silk, one recipe for orange marmalade, one birthday book, one address book, Lillian Russell's beauty recipe, one recipe for orange slips in need of mending, one package of tooth powder, six old-fashioned mints, one silk stocking, one nail file, one nail polisher, one vanity brush, one package of flower seeds and one pocket comb.

Signs of the Times.
Niagara Falls is getting so much good advertising these days that there should be a sale again for those beautiful transparencies: "Niagara Falls by Moonlight."

CLINTON

Clinton, June 12.—The Eastern Star supper at the home of E. H. Tubbs last evening was one of the most enjoyable of the many fine gatherings had by that order. The supper, which was exceedingly bountiful and delicious, was served under a large tent erected on the beautiful lawn. After supper those present assembled in the spacious parlors and enjoyed a very pleasant social time. Two automobile loads of men from Peoria, Ill., on their way to Delavan Lake, stopped off here Wednesday. Among them were Dwight Hamilton, E. R. Kidder and Fred Strutz. Er. Rhoads of Beloit, was here Wednesday in consultation with Dr. A. V. Hollister.

Dr. A. S. Woolston has traded his auto for northern Wisconsin land. C. M. French, Mrs. A. E. McKinney's father, left Wednesday for Michigan to spend the summer on the large estate of his nephew. Miss Minnie Fulkerson and Mesdames Fred Olsen, A. L. Larson, W. H. Chesser, C. A. Salisbury, spent the day Wednesday in Janesville. Hon. LeRoy Best and family, and Mrs. E. G. Blodgett motored to Janesville Wednesday in Mr. Best's Pierce-Arrow.

Miss Lizzie Chamberlain went to Chicago today to visit relatives of her father.

William A. Hughes and Raymond C. Steward caught a magnificent string of fine large bass and pickerel out of Turtle Creek yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. H. Newman of Chicago, is visiting some of her numerous friends in Clinton.

Miss Lillian Saxton, a senior of Beloit college, was an over Sunday visitor of Miss Estelle Cooper.

The Ladies' Missionary Society will meet at the beautiful country home of Mrs. W. L. Hamilton, just west of town this afternoon. Supper will be served from five o'clock until all are served, to which everyone is cordially invited. The men are included in this invitation.

Miss Estelle Cooper attended the wedding of Miss Adelaide Greene at Beloit Wednesday evening at eight o'clock. Miss Cooper and Miss Greene were classmates at Beloit college.

W. F. Christman was in Sharon a few hours Thursday.

John O. Hocker, who was formerly connected with the Creamery Supply Mfg. Co., moved his household goods to Janesville yesterday.

Mrs. O. C. Wakefield and son of St. Paul, are expected next week to visit her parents and sister, while Mr. Wakefield is on a trip to the Pacific coast.

Mrs. F. C. Bradley and daughter, Ruth, went to Janesville recently.

Hops for Success.

As to being prepared for defeat, I certainly am not. Any man who is prepared for defeat would be half defeated before he commenced. I hope for success, shall do all in my power to secure it, and trust to God for the rest.—Admiral Farragut.

World Beyond Our Ken.
There are noises louder than thunder which we cannot hear, the roar that lies on the other side of silence. We men are poor, restless prisoners, hemmed in by our senses as by the wall of a cell, hearing only a part of Nature's orchestra and that part imperfectly; seeing only a thousandth part of the color marvels about us and seeing that infinitesimal part incorrectly and partially.—From "Unpathed Waters," by Frank Harris.

MAJESTIC

No "stiffness" now at the Majestic. Two exhaust fans keep drawing fresh air through the theater all the time, and four fans on the walls keep this fresh air in constant motion about you. It's just like being outdoors in a breeze, except that the bugs don't bother.

Tonight's program includes "The Mystery of the Amsterdam Diamonds," the 7th of "The Chronicles of Cleek," with Ben Wilson. Also Francis X. Bushman in "The Voice of the Wilderness," a two-part Essay, and Baby Lillian Wade in the two-part Selig "The Baby Spy."

PIANOS THAT SATISFY

These are the pianos for you to buy, the kind that will give entire satisfaction in tone, action and durability. I hear you, how am I to know? First, call on a reliable dealer, one who you can trust, whose judgment is good, and on whose word you can rely, and the man who cares. Second: The reliability of the manufacturer back of the piano. This advice will put you on the right track, the rest is easy.

FIND MISSING AUTO ON LOCUST STREET

Automobile Taken From High School Found by Police in Front of Residence on Locust Street.

During the commencement exercises at the high school either a party of youths who wanted a joy ride, or "practical" jokers, took the touring car belonging to R. G. Inman and after running it around the city abandoned it in front of the Chase residence 108 Locust street. The spark plug and key were removed from the auto by the owner taking the car. Residents on Locust street phoned the police that three young men had driven the auto to the curb, extinguished the lights and run down the street.

MOTORISTS REMOVE BARRICADE LANTERN

Incensed Because Four-Mile Bridge is Closed, Motor Party Takes Away Warning Sign.

Members of an auto party who were unaware that the four-mile bridge across Rock river in the town of Janesville is closed for repairs, drove as far as the barricade at the western approach last evening and then proceeded to remove the warning lantern which they carried away with them. The names of the parties responsible for meddling with the barricade are known to the township officials and some action may be taken as their thoughts act might have had serious consequences. Signs have been posted at the Rock river house corner and at Shoemaker's corner, warning travelers that the bridge is closed, but a number of auto parties failed to take notice of these, even in the day-time. Work on the bridge began the early part of the week and will not be completed for at least a week.

PRISONER MISSING WHEN CASE CALLED

Released in Custody of His Attorney, He Disappears On the Night Before Trial.

Walter S. Stuart, charged with breaking into the office of Dr. Judd during the day time who had been held for trial in the municipal court, is missing, and his whereabouts is unknown. John M. Whitehead, an attorney, had been undergoing a severe test to determine whether he was addicted to the use of drugs or not, and without warning to his lawyers left for parts unknown, simply leaving a note saying he would not be present when his case was called. At the time of his arraignment District Attorney Dunwiddie asked that he be placed under bonds, but waived the demand when Judge Maxfield released him in custody of his attorneys. The case was taken up this morning in the municipal court when the official statement of the attorneys was placed on record. It should be remembered he will have to answer to the original complaint and also a new charge of jumping his bail.

MILTON CLOSES SEASON WITH A CLOSE VICTORY OVER PLATTEVILLE NINE

Platteville, June 11.—Milton college defeated Platteville Normal in the afternoon in the closest and most interesting game of the season by a 2 to 1 score.

Crandal, throwing for Milton, had the victory at his mercy during the second half. For five innings neither side scored, although in the third Milton filled the bases, but retired without a score. In the sixth Platteville scored on an error by the second baseman. But in the next inning Crandal of Milton hit a clean one to right field and stole second and third. Then Thorngate drove him home on a line through short, tying the score. In the ninth the Normal left fielder dropped a pretty fly, allowing Randolph to reach first. Owens then whacked a beautiful triple over the left field and so put Milton one in the lead. Platteville couldn't solve Crandal's hoppers, and the game ended 2 to 1.

Sport Snap Shots

Eddie Clotte, the White Sox twirler, tells of a time when a very ordinary scorch hit locked so good to the fans that they flocked down on the diamond and carried the batter about on their shoulders. Eddie was with Boston at the time and the team had lost sixteen straight games. It was in the last of the ninth and with a runner on third the batter put over the nearly little single that brought in the winning run. It was a lucky bouncer that managed to get past the infield. And the player who got the "hit" was more of a lion with the fans than many another who has pounded out screaming three-baggers.

Frank Chance is doing his level best to cultivate a little swatting ability on his team. At present he is in rather sad need of a few players who can pound at a 300 clip or better, though he thinks that before long he will have some. Several of the youngsters on his payroll show the signs of development into reliable hitters and able to maintain the much-to-be-desired 300 average. It must be that Frank in his present predicament not infrequently looks back to the days when he could depend upon a line-up that showed such names as Tinker, Steinfield, Slagle, Evers, Schulte and Sheekard.

If Joe Tinker's Feds can show a little speed at this point and go right after the pennant they will have a fine chance of winning the undying loyalty of Chicago fans. The Feds are quite popular in Chi as it is. The Cubs and the White Sox have displayed so little class this far that it would be an easy matter for the Feds to usurp the other places in the hearts of Chicago's baseball public. A nice race for the flag would turn the trick for the Feds.

Someone has figured it out that every hit Tris Speaker makes costs his employers somewhere between $200 and $300. This is reached after computing the average number of hits Tris will make and after dividing the figures in his salary by that number. The dolester who worked over that one will please ascertain how much it costs the Detroit management when Cobb slides into second.

Hughie Jennings says that if he had the White Sox pitching staff he would run away with the American league pennant. And maybe if the Sox had his outfield—two members of his outfield—they would beat him to it with ease. Why don't they make the swap and try it out. Most all the fans would be interested.

The Feds are leading the big leagues in homers. They have turned over something like seventy-five so far, while the National league has made in the neighborhood of fifty and the American league but thirty.

Frank Tachikawa is holder of the A.A.U. outdoor long distance underwater swimming championship of the world. Quite a little. More interesting, however, is the fact this little Jap can swim under water for four minutes at a stretch.

CARDINALS TO MEET ALL-STARS SUNDAY

Janesville Nine Play Picked Team From Walworth County League

Nine innings of sensational pastime are expected in the fray between the Janesville Cardinals and an all-star aggregation picked from the players in the Walworth county league at the opening of Yost's Park Sunday. The league teams have a fast bunch of ball tossers and the pick of the batteries will oppose the Cards.

"Caddy" Butters of Crandall will do the leading for the Cards with Hall behind the plate. The rest of the team will be made up with the usual Cardinal men, who have been going "great guns" of late. Other attractions are also offered at the opening day program.

The Janesville White Sox play the Heloit Athletics at the Driving Park diamond Sunday. O'Hara and Fleasdale will be the battery for the Sox and the nine "should be" easy prey for the local nine.

Honesty Always Best.
Honesty in dealing with ourselves and one another has been one of the axioms since time began. We cannot afford to be otherwise. It is the best and only way. Being honest saves worry and fretting, it helps make character and it gives us joy in life to know that we have been honest when we might have been otherwise to our temporary gain.

Of the criminal court, London, the acoustic properties are not so perfect as they might be, and there is a decided echo from the walls. Some time ago Judge Rentoul sentenced a prisoner to six months' hard labor. When the judgment was passed "Six months' hard labor" was echoed from the back of the court. The prisoner turned to the warder by his side and inquired anxiously: "Are these sentences to run concurrently?"

"TIZ" FOR SORE, TIRED FEET—AH!

"TIZ" is grand for aching, swollen, sweaty, calloused feet or corns.

Ah! what relief. No more tired feet; no more burning feet; no more swollen, bad smelling, sweaty feet. No more soreness in corns, callouses, bunions.

No matter what ails your feet or what under the sun you've tried without getting relief, just use "TIZ." "TIZ" is the only remedy that draws out all the poisonous exudations which puff up the feet. "TIZ" cures your foot trouble so you'll never limp or draw up your face in pain. Your shoes won't seem tight and your feet will never hurt or get sore and swollen. Think of it, no more foot misery, no more agony from corns, callouses or bunions.

Get a 25 cent box at any drug store or department store and get instant relief. Wear smaller shoes. Just once try "TIZ." Get a whole year's foot comfort for only 25 cents. Think of it.

Wash Day Is Joy Day With "SKITCH"

"SKITCH" Sends Washboards to the Scrap Heap—"SKITCH" Saves the Backache of Rubbing—"SKITCH" Keeps Your Hands Out of Hot Suds—"SKITCH" Is a God-send on Wash Day.

Praises be for SKITCH! It's a perfect wonder. Throw your washboards away, women! Don't break your back rubbing clothes or don't let your wash-woman break her poor back rubbing, for SKITCH cleans clothes better than rubbing can do it, and makes your clothes last longer and look nicer.

SKITCH is a marvel! Try it right away and see what SKITCH does. Three teaspoons of SKITCH to a boll of clothes and the dirt is just skitched right out of the dirtiest garments while you sit and rest or do up your housework.

You never heard of anything so fine as that. There is nothing else like SKITCH—nothing like it was ever thought of before. SKITCH can't hurt the finest fabric—you could even eat it and it wouldn't hurt you.

Get a 10c package of SKITCH of your grocer today and see the joyful, happy wonder of it. Enough for seven washings in a 10 cent package of SKITCH—costs just a little over a cent to save a day's back breaking, rubbing and a day's misery of keeping your hands in hot suds, less than the soap used in rubbing would cost.

If your grocer doesn't have SKITCH he can get it for you from his jobber. If he won't, write to me—send me his name and I'll send you a big free sample. Hans Eichtenberg, Milwaukee, Wis.

NOTICE OF HEARING.

WHEREAS, On the 18th day of May, 1914, a notice was filed with the Railroad Commission of Wisconsin by the proper authorities of the City of Janesville, to the effect that on the 12th day of May, 1914, at a special election, the vote of a majority of electors voting thereon was in favor of the purchasing and acquiring of the plant of the Janesville Water Company by the City of Janesville; and

WHEREAS, A resolution was passed by the mayor and council of the City of Janesville on the 15th day of May, 1914, to the effect that the said City of Janesville acquire the property of the said company actually used and useful for the convenience of the public; in accordance with the provisions of Section 179m-72 to Section 179m-86, inclusive, of the Statutes of Wisconsin; and

WHEREAS, Said Janesville Water Company having duly surrendered all its franchises, licenses and permits granted to it by said city, and obtained in lieu thereof an indeterminate permit under the provisions of Section 179m-77 of the Statutes of Wisconsin;

NOW THEREFORE, Notice is hereby given that on the 24th day of June, 1914, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, at the office of the Railroad Commission of Wisconsin, in the Capitol, in the City of Madison, Wisconsin, the said Commission will proceed to hold a hearing on the value of the plant of the Janesville Water Company, and following such hearing will, by order, fix and determine the compensation to be paid by the City of Janesville for the property of the Janesville Water Company actually used and useful for the convenience of the public; and the terms and conditions of such sale and purchase; at which time and place all persons interested are requested to be present and present such arguments and evidence as they may deem proper in the premises in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 480, Laws of 1907, and the acts amendatory thereof and supplementary thereto.

DATED this 20th day of May, A. D. 1914.

DEAD! FROM PARING CORNS

More Lives Periled Daily

"I read this so often in the newspapers," says a famous chemist, "that I decided there must be a way to stop it. Finally I discovered this safe, quick, painless home method and called it Blue-Jay."

Now 60,000,000 people have used Blue-Jay, scarcely knowing what became of their corns.

Readers—Don't invite blood poisoning by picking, paring, corns—avoid dangerous treatments. Don't daub on acids. Accept this chemist's gift. Apply one little Blue-Jay to the corn. Pain stops at once. The corn loosens up. In 2 days you lift it out—root and all. That corn is gone forever. So with all corns. Get Blue-Jay from your druggist today, 15c and 25c a package. Or the celebrated Bauer & Black Laboratories, Chicago, will send a sample free, postpaid.

HOW TO HELP A CAUSE.

BETTER a wise enemy than a foolish friend. How many times the friends of a cause do it as much harm as its enemies.

A suffragist and an anti-suffragist were discussing the great question the other day. "You should hear Miss E.," said the anti-suffragist, mentioning a well-known anti-suffrage speaker. "She's a liar. Besides, people say terrible things about her reputation."

Naturally the anti-suffragist was not won over by that argument.

Who would be?

Naturally she went about relating the little incidents which, of course, helped to prejudice against herself. I could have wept when I heard it, knowing the harm it would inevitably do.

There are certain things that any man or woman who works for a cause, with a capital C, should try to remember. One is that personal vituperation of the people who believe other than you do does not prove anything except you have poor manners.

Calling a man or woman a liar is not the best way to win a third person's sympathy for your cause. On the contrary.

Again, if you want to help a cause along, do not overstate. Do not say things you are not sure of. Every time you do that you are giving the enemy an enormous advantage. He can disprove that argument, and by inference discredit the trustworthiness of all arguments. Understate rather than overstate.

It's safer in the end.

Then speak with moderation and good manners. Try to keep all animosity out of your voice and your heart. Remember that the personality of its supporter is in itself a big argument for or against a Cause, and conduct yourself accordingly.

Lastly, be open-minded. Remember that it is not all important that your arguments should win, but it is all important that the Cause of right and justice should triumph. If anyone can prove that you are not on the side of right and justice and the world's best interests, be brave enough to lower your standard, for that is the supreme bravery of all.

Every Day Talks To Every Day People

(BY FRANCES JOYCE KENNEDY.)

If you should happen to be a business girl, working daily, counting yourself a wage-earner, may we ask you two questions? Do you save any of your salary? Do you pay your board? Let us walk backward. Take the last question first—"Do you pay your board?"

"I Never Saw Hair Grow Like This!"

"VAL DONA" HAIR TONIC Forces Hair To Grow Wonderfully.

The tape measure and the fluffiness and fresh, silky hair—these are the things that you never experienced before, will prove to you very quickly that you have in "VAL DONA" Hair Tonic a hair-grower, extra-strength. It is actually causing a sensation.

Your hair will stop falling—no more strands of dead hair knotted on your comb or brush. "VAL DONA" Hair Tonic gives great stimulus to the hair roots. It forces them to produce. It gives life and the color and health to hair. You'll see bald or thin spots fill out. "VAL DONA" Hair Tonic is delightful to use. It is clean, delicately fragrant, highly antiseptic, and contains no oil. It gets rid of dandruff right off. Satisfaction guaranteed, or your money refunded.

"VAL DONA" Hair Tonic sold only in all "VAL DONA" drug stores, in two sizes, one and $1.00 bottles. There's a "VAL DONA" article for anything you want—all guaranteed or money back with a smile.

"VAL DONA" Drug Store in Janesville is McCue & Buss.

IF YOU ARE A DRINKING MAN

You had better stop at once or you'll lose your job. Every day of business is closing its doors to "drinking" men. It may be your turn next. By the aid of ORRINE thousands of men have been restored to lives of sobriety and industry. We are sure that ORRINE will benefit you that we say to you that if after a trial you fail to get any benefit from its use, your money will be refunded.

When you stop "drinking" think of the money you'll save. Besides, sobriety may be worth more to their employers and get higher wages.

Costs only $1.00 a box. We have an interesting booklet about ORRINE that we are giving away free on request. Call at our store and talk it over.

For the Woman Who Cares

It is the "glove of today"—the glove that has won and maintained its reputation under "today's" exacting conditions, that the well-gowned woman demands. "Niagara Maid" Silk Glove is the "glove of today"—the glove of distinctive quality and economy.

Unless you have worn a "Niagara Maid" Silk Glove you cannot realize the satisfaction and long wear a Pure Silk Glove will give.

Look for the name "Niagara Maid" in the hem.

All Sizes, All Colors, Double Time, Double Wear. A Guarantee Ticket in every pair. Short Silk Gloves, $1.00, $1.25 up. Long Silk Gloves, 75c, $1.00, $1.25, $1.50 up. Niagara Silk Mills, North Tonawanda, N. Y. Makers of "Niagara Maid" Silk Products

How much of your salary do you save? Did you ever try to put aside one dollar a week? Yes, we know just how impossible it seems; how things never looked so alluring; how things seem to crop up on every side for us to donate to—in short, urgent calls come thundering in upon us for that lonesome dollar.

But right here is where you want to stand pat. If you make a habit of saving one dollar a week, you will be so glad when you find as time slides by in the unnoted way that time has a trick of doing, that you have, say, thirty dollars saved up. From thirty to a hundred is not so difficult as you imagine. Keep at it! Make the hundred mark.

Even if you are tempted beyond resistance and take it all out and spend it on a summer vacation, the habit of thrift is being instilled into you. No better habit could you have. If you can earn, and earning can save—you are a self-respecting wage-earner. You are self-supporting. You are getting more out of your work than mere occupation, or cash. You are forming habits that will stand by you in later life—the habits of thrift, industry and independence.

This all sounds like a "preachy" talk, but you know better than any of us can tell you how true it is that to have a "rainy day fund" is to have a friend indeed.

BELTS OF OILCLOTH NOW POPULAR RAGE

Funeral Effects on Both Hats and Frocks Latest Gasp of the Mode. (By Margaret Mason.)

New York, June 12.—Everything is going to waist. That portion of woman's anatomy has long been the junk heap for all sorts of metals, hides and fabrics to hang upon; but the present vogue of hard black shiny oilcloth is to change the belt of all fat uncomplaining ugliness. Nevertheless it is smart, oh very, and you simply must be spanned with one about your middle.

The accepted model is about eight inches wide in crushed effect and fastens on the side with a sprawling, vertical blot of the shiny material. Oilcloth in most extensively used but white oilcloth is decidedly chic also and gives the fair wearer the appearance of being all dressed up like the kitchen table.

This craze for oilcloth and ribbon waxed to simulate the real article first, but it has now become a craze for trimming and now that it has her on the middle ground it does not seem at all inappropriate that it should appear as the very newest of all dress trappings.

Particularly in combination with blue serge is the banding and binding of the hard black shiny surface most popular.

Funeral effects on both hat and frock are simply the last gasp of the mode, and dull glazed wreaths of white leaves and flowers on the dull glazed black and white straw shapes in combination with the dull glazed ribbons are nothing new. They have long been a favorite. Let us hope, however, that lovely woman's mad passion for everything glazed will not extend to her eyes.

"Watch out!" is again the slogan. To be abreast of the time your watch must now dangle from the bosom of your coat or blouse. Of oblong shape, like the smartest wrist watches, the timepiece hangs on a grooved ribbon exactly the width of the watch and decorated with a single jeweled side, and is pinned to the blouse or the outside of the coat with a bar pin. The advent of this new arrival has not wrested all the wrist watches from the pulse of fashion by any means, and among the novelties black enamel watches, set with brilliant in bracelets, of onyx, are charming examples of the new fad for black and white jeweled combinations and settings.

Just another little instance of Fashion's weird vagaries is the style of wearing the corsage bouquet in the middle of your back instead of in front. It is quite the thing to fasten either a single rose or a tiny nosegay in the middle of the back of your dress. The bouquet is now fastened to the left hand side of your collar.

Salamanca fashions launched from the descriptions of the style of garments affected by the heroine of Owen Johnson's latest model have New York at their feet. As the frocks and suits are all cut on the straight lines of the long Russian bias, they will certainly be like playing with fire for any but the very slim and most youthful of figures to adapt the Salamanca styles to their own personality.

Even the most pudgy, however, may indulge in an adoption of Salamanca gloves, hankies and stationery. The last two articles sporting stat a facsimile of the lizard like beak by way of decoration.

Gloves, both long and short, are all of biscuit or café au lait suede and do-skin and very correct and trim looking. There are also Salamanca blouses, hats, capes and everything for feminine wear from the skirt to the shoe. Indeed if clothes made the war as they say they do the man, then by donning a complete Salamanca outfit presto change, every woman could turn into a fascinating "Dodo" of the book and capture a millionaire spouse on the strength of her garments.

FRECKLE-FACE

Sun and Wind Bring Out Ugly Spots, How to Remove Easily.

Here's a chance, Miss Freckle-face, to try a remedy for freckles with the guarantee of a reliable dealer that it will not cost you a penny unless it removes the freckles; while if it does give you a clear complexion the expense is trifling.

Simply get an ounce of othine—double strength from Badger Drug Co., and a few applications should show you how easy it is to rid yourself of the homely freckles and get a beautiful complexion. Rarely is more than one ounce needed for the worst case.

Be sure to ask the druggist for the double strength othine as this is the prescription sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove freckles.

Women Worth While

MRS. OSCAR CALLAWAY.

By Selene Armstrong Harmon. Some women think for themselves, but few have courage to live independently. Mrs. Oscar Callaway, the wife of Representative Callaway of Comanche, Texas, does both. She is one of the few women for whom neither society nor politics holds any illusions. After four or five years of Washington life she could go back to her home town tomorrow, take up the conversation right where she left off when she became a congresswoman's wife, and live happy ever after. This does not mean that Mrs. Callaway has not made many friends and true at the capital. She has. Nor that she does not feel all a normal woman's interest in afternoon teas and new fashions. She does, decidedly.

"But," she says, "I am convinced that the happiest woman, and the woman who is the most helpful wife to the man in public life, is she who keeps to perfectly sane standards of living. No other people's standards, mind you, but her own. You will probably smile when I give you my idea of a successful career in Washington. It is this: If a man and woman in public life here live so that they can go back home any day and be content there on small means and with the old simple standards of living, why that man and woman have achieved success in the highest sense of the word. They have conquered circumstances and environment. They have laid the best possible foundation for success in public life, which presupposes an ability to think and desire to serve, and for success in the private walks of life as well."

These are the convictions of the woman who has been always more or less in contact with the real things of life. Mrs. Callaway remembers how, when she entered college with a burning desire to hold a diploma in her hand, it seemed to her she could never wait four years for graduation day. As it was, she waited ten years. Her parents having died when she was a child, it was necessary for her to assume certain responsibilities toward those near to her that delayed the progress of her own education. That she did finish her college course and take a degree despite all obstacles was characteristic of that earnestness of character and sincerity of purpose which are today her strongest traits. Both Representative Callaway and his wife were graduated from the University of Texas, where the former took his course in political economy under former Professor David S. Houston, who is now secretary of agriculture. Mrs. Callaway is an enthusiastic advocate of co-education.

"I never understand," she says, "the old, old objection that it puts love and marriage into the heads of the students. What if it does? Are they not the two best things in life for any young man and any young woman?"

Mrs. Callaway has one accomplishment which, it is safe to say, not one congressman's wife in ten would find time to acquire during a season in Washington. She is expert at shorthand and typewriting, both of which she learned with remarkable ease, in order to surprise her husband when he returned from a three weeks' business trip away from Washington. Her proficiency in these has enabled her to be of great assistance to him in his work.

ECONOMICAL MEAT DISHES.

Meat pies are ordinarily baked in a fairly deep dish, the sides of which may or may not be lined with dough. The cooked meat, cut into small pieces, is put into the dish, sometimes with small pieces of vegetables, a gravy is poured over the meat, the dish is covered with a layer of dough, and then baked. Most commonly the dough is like that used for soda or cream of tartar biscuit, but sometimes shortened pastry dough, such as is made for pies, is used. This is especially the case in the fancy individual dishes usually called patties. Occasionally the pie is covered with a potato crust, in which case the meat is put directly into the dish without lining the latter. Any kind of meat, or several kinds in combination, may be used for pies.

If pies are made from raw meat and vegetables longer cooking is needed than otherwise, and in such cases it is well to cover the dish with a plate, cook until the pie is nearly done, then remove the plate, add the crust, and return to the oven until the crust is lightly brown. Many cooks insist on piercing holes in the top crust of a meat pie directly it is taken from the oven.

Twelve o'clock pie is made with shoulder of mutton, boiled with carrot and onion, then cut up, mixed with potatoes separately boiled and cut up, and put into a baking dish. The crust is made by mixing smoothly mashed potatoes to which a tablespoonful of shortening has been added, with enough flour and water to make them roll out easily. A pie made of a pound of meat will require five or six small filled potatoes, a cupful of mashed potatoes, and eight or ten tablespoonfuls of flour, and should be baked about 20 minutes in a hot oven. Salt, pepper, and other seasoning, as onion and carrot, may be added to taste. A teaspoonful of baking powder makes the crust lighter.

The Kitchen Cabinet

HO is the wisest man—he who does the right thing at the right time? No, indeed; but he who leaves unsaid the wrong things at the tempting moment.

VARIOUS HINTS.

For cheap meals for a week, one finds it necessary to plan and work out a schedule for each day. On Monday get a large, meaty shank, which will cost anywhere from 10 to 25 cents, depending on the town and the butcher. Cook this until tender, also cook a few potatoes, carrots, turnips and rice. Remove the meat from the bones, and either brown it in butter or slice and lay on the platter with the vegetables around it. Have the carrots and turnips cut in dice. Serve rice as a dessert, with a hard sauce or sugar and cream.

On Tuesday, make a vegetable soup, using the stock from the meat of the day before and the vegetables put through a sieve. The rice that is left over may be served as an escalloped dish with cheese and a white sauce.

For Wednesday, a few pork chops baked, with sliced potatoes, makes a most appetizing dish and one which is easy to prepare.

On Thursday, make a hash of the leftover meat of the first of the week, and bake it with mashed potatoes over the top of the loaf. Slice and serve as a loaf. Have escalloped corn for a vegetable.

On Friday, have fish boiled and served with a lemon sauce. Baked potatoes and a steamed pudding with egg sauce.

On Saturday, which is baking day in most homes, a nice dish may be prepared with little watching, is a mutton stew with peas. Lamb will be nicer and more tender, but it is not always to be had. Cook slowly until nearly ready to serve, then add a can of green peas and serve around the stew on the platter. A few carrots may be added an hour before taking off, to give them plenty of time to cook. They will add to the flavor as well as to the appearance of the dish. With this meat dish a light dessert is all that is necessary.

Heart and Home Problems

Dear Mrs. Thompson: We are two girls 16 years old.

(1) We have been going with the boys since we were 14, but we never have let them kiss us. Did we do right?

(2) Is it proper for this second boy to take me home from church if my mother consents to it?

(3) Is it right for a boy to telephone to me?

(4) Must a girl telephone first, or a boy?

(5) Why not go to the party? Because you like another boy is not a good reason why you should not go to a party given by anybody else.

(6) I see no harm in it, if he acts respectfully.

(7) If he has anything worth saying, he can telephone.

(8) Let the boy do the calling up first, last and most of the time.

German Coffee Cake

Made Without Yeast

By Mrs. Janet McKenzie Hill, Editor of the Boston Cooking School Magazine.

There is no warm bread quite as appropriate for Sunday morning breakfast as German Coffee Cake, yet it is seldom made by housewives who do not bake their own bread. If K C double raise Baking Powder is used it will be just as good as if raised with yeast and it will have the further advantage of being fresh and warm. Save this recipe and try it next Sunday.

K C German Coffee Cake

Two and one-fourth cups sifted flour; 3 level teaspoonfuls K C Baking Powder; 1 level teaspoonful salt; 2 tablespoonfuls melted butter; 2 tablespoonfuls sugar; 1 egg; milk.

Sift dry ingredients together, beat the egg, add milk and butter to the egg to make one and one-quarter cups, stir all together with inverted spoon to a stiff batter. Turn into biscuit pan and spread even. Brush top lightly with melted butter. Sprinkle sugar and ground cinnamon over the top. Bake in moderate oven.

DIMPLES AND CURLY.

(1) I am rather surprised that your parents approve of kissing. They are the surest means of spreading disease and on purely health grounds I would never allow my own children to play them. I have known a number of children and young people who were infected by very serious diseases through these kissing games.

(2) You do not say whether you want cold refreshments at a table menu. I would suggest a menu like this:

Cold Sliced Ham and Tongue
Hot Creamed Potatoes.
Mixed Salad with Mayonnaise Dressing
Cherry Pie or Ice Cream
Hot or Iced Tea

(3) You will call yourselves "The Happy Sextet," or "The Society of Six."

DIPLOMAS PRESENTED TO 55 LAST EVENING

LARGEST CLASS IN YEARS DEPARTS FROM HIGH SCHOOL THURSDAY NIGHT.

A SUCCESSFUL WEEK

Exercises All Well Received by Audiences—Program Last Evening Was Exceptionally Good.

Another successful commencement week, culminated by the musical recital Tuesday night, and the presentation of diplomas Wednesday afternoon, was concluded after a happy and profitable week. The graduates, who are so many, and to whom the school has been a home for the past year, have been a joy to all who have known them. The program last evening concluded a week of joy for the seniors as well as a week of sorrow. The feeling of leaving the high school, where so many of their school days are so full of memories, has been a burden to bear all week, and will be for some time to come.

Dr. E. J. Lusk, of the University of Wisconsin, presiding, an impressive program, including the handing out of the diplomas to the outgoing seniors. The graduates were given a hearty welcome by the faculty and the students. The program was a success in every respect.

Agricultural and Garden Dept. ALLEN B. WEST, Director.

In this department Professor West will answer all questions on agricultural and garden matters each Saturday. As your interest in the department develops, a more frequent insertion of the queries and answers will be made. Address all communications signed with your name, to the Agricultural Department, Gazette. Your name will be withheld, if desired. If personal answer is also desired, enclose self addressed stamped envelope.

Question—What shall I do for ants on the lawn? There are large nests of them.

Answer—It is unfortunate that it is necessary to make war on these industrious and interesting little insects, but when they invade our lawns and pastures, it seems necessary to do so. The surest remedy for them is to fumigate their nests with carbon bisulphide, which may be procured at any drug store. With it proceed as follows: With a sharpened stick, a broom handle pointed at one end will do very well, make holes in the nests, two or three feet apart, according to the size of the nest and the character of the soil. The most and best holes should be made in the soil, not in the grass. Into each of these holes pour a tablespoonful or more of the liquid and then close the holes with earth. A wet blanket may be put over the hill and left on for an hour or two to prevent escape of the gas. This will not injure vegetation, but will kill the ants, as the gas being heavier than air penetrates the galleries of the nest.

Caution—The carbon bisulphide generates a gas that is explosive and dangerous to breathe, hence care should be used in handling it.

Question—What are the little black bugs on the underside of the leaves of my cherry trees? Answer—They are probably the aphids, which trouble cherry trees. They are a sucking insect and therefore the treatment for them is the same as for any other sucking insect. Use a kerosene emulsion. The formula for that was given last week, but is here repeated for the benefit of those who have not the paper at hand.

Kerosene Emulsion. Dissolve 1/2 oz. of any good soap in 1/2 cup of soft boiling water. Put it into one cup of kerosene and beat with a Dover egg beater until it forms a creamy mass about twice its original bulk. This is the foundation for the spray, which is diluted in this case with 15 cups or 3 3/4 quarts of soft water, to make a ten per cent solution. This should be applied in a misty spray, taking care to so manipulate the machine as to reach the underside of the leaves. If the tree is large it may be necessary to double or triple this amount. In case of making amounts too large to be conveniently emulsified with the Dover egg beater, it may be done by pumping the mixture with the spray pump back upon itself.

Question—A green worm is eating the leaves of my newly set strawberry plants? What is it and what shall I do to prevent its ravages?

Answer—It is probably the larvae of the strawberry sawfly. It can be held in check by the use of some poison like lead arsenate or paris green. Lead arsenate being retained longer upon the surface of the leaf, is preferred by some. To prepare, dissolve 1/2 teaspoonful in a 12-quart pail of water and apply in a spray. If paris green is used it should first be mixed smooth with a little water and then put into the larger amount of water at the rate of 1 teaspoonful to a 12-quart pail of water. If to this is added an ounce of lime, slacked in a little hot water, there will be no danger of the paris green injuring the foliage.

Caution—Neither of these mixtures should ever be used on strawberry beds in fruit, as these compounds are poisonous.

Request. The writer of these notes would like to have the benefit of the experience of the dairymen of the vicinity for the cow at calving time. If readers of this column will write accounts of their methods of caring for cows at this time, it will no doubt be helpful to many, as inquiry seems to show there is quite a diversity of practice among the farmers with reference to the care of the cow at this critical time.

NORTH DAKOTA WOMEN OPEN CAMPAIGN FOR BALLOT

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.) Fargo, N. D., June 12.—North Dakota women today began a strenuous campaign for the ballot. All schools, churches, women's clubs, colleges and women's societies will be united into a gigantic working organization. The petition for suffrage will be submitted to the male voters at the November elections. Mrs. Elizabeth P. Anderson of Valley City, who is backing the movement, declares the women are confident of carrying their first ballots in the spring of 1915.

In 1909 the largest graduating class which has ever graduated from the high school received diplomas, there being twenty-nine graduates. Last evening the next largest class which has ever graduated from the school was awarded diplomas with a number of twenty-seven. When the time had arrived for the exercises to commence the church was packed to the doors by the relatives and friends of the graduates. Whitewater persists in the old fashioned commencement exercises, in which the members of the class take part, each member delivering an essay of his own production. As long as this form of commencement exercises will draw the largest crowds which ever gather in our city, the newer forms of exercises will not be adopted.

TOBACCO PLANTING IS WELL UNDER WAY

Rock County Growers Are Forced to Make Early Start Owing to Forwardness of Season.

The way the transplanting of the new tobacco crop is progressing in nearly all sections of the state at this writing leads to the conclusion that the crop will reach the fields at a much earlier date this year than usual. While the growers feel that it is rather earlier than necessary for the best results, says the Edgerton Reporter, they have been forced to start the planting because of the forward condition of the plants that had already reached a size that rendered their being transferred to the fields or else lose them altogether. The machine transplanters do not work conveniently when the plants are too large, and the percentage of loss is greater on oversized plants. The transplanting, however, is being favored with a fine condition of soil and weather, and an excellent start has been made in getting out the crop. Some warehouse work is still under way in southern Wisconsin markets, but only light forces are employed. The market for old leaf is remarkably quiet, though a 1000 case deal in Wisconsin was reported from New York. The shipments out of Chicago reach only about 3000s from this market to all points since last report.

FORTY YEARS AGO

Janeville Daily Gazette, June 12, 1874.—Mr. Charles Sivells, the gentlemanly and popular agent for the Great Eastern menagerie and circus, visited the Gazette premises this afternoon. He had given a twenty-seventh of June for the day when the show which he represents will be seen in this city.

The weather continues very cool, there being speculations about frost tonight. Fifty-eight degrees above zero at noon certainly looks very wintry.

The benefit for the popular young artist, William T. Ebbots, will take place at the opera house on Tuesday evening next. Ebbots' name alone should fill the opera house and a thing his first benefit, he should and will no doubt have an immense crowd. He will be assisted by some of the finest talent in this city and the entertainment promises to be the best ever given by our home talent.

The American house is about to change its location from the eastern side of the river, on Milwaukee street, to a new site on a memorial to the council is being prepared asking for a reconsideration of the order to purchase a Silsby rotary engine. Action should be stayed until the question is fully understood by the public.

The sand is bothering the artesian well borers immensely. Working for many hours without gaining an inch, they suddenly force down the sand pump several feet and before the pipe can be gotten into position the cavity is filled with the sand. The well borers are praying for rock and welling manfully all the time.

There will be a ballot this evening at the Court Street M. E. church to award a gold headed cane to the most popular of the two disputants, J. P. Bates and Rev. J. J. Lord Jones. The voting will commence at 8 o'clock.

Lung Trouble Yielded to This Medicine

If you are suffering with Lung Trouble, or if you know of some unfortunate person so afflicted, would you take the trouble of fully investigating a medicine which has brought about complete recovery in a number of very serious cases? To Eckman's Alternative, a remedy for Throat and Lung Troubles, has been given the fullest credit of restoring health in a large number of cases. Read this: "3223 Girard Ave., Phila., Pa. "Gentlemen: In the winter of 1908 I had an attack of Grippe, followed by Pneumonia, and later by Lung Trouble. In the winter of 1904 I had cough, night sweats, fever and other signs of lung trouble. I had a number of attacks of this kind, and at one time three in three successive days. My lungs became so inflamed that I could not breathe. Three physicians treated me, but I was ordered to the mountains, but did not go. Eckman's Alternative was recommended by a friend. After taking a small quantity I had the first quiet night's sleep for weeks. My improvement was marked from the first. I gained strength and weight and appetite. I never had another hemorrhage and my cough gradually lessened until entirely gone. I am perfectly well." (Address: ANNIE F. LOUGHRAN. (Above abbreviated; more on request.) Eckman's Alternative has been prescribed by many of the most eminent physicians for severe Throat and Lung Affections, Bronchitis, Bronchial Asthma, Straborn Coughs and in rebuilding the system. Contains no narcotics, poisons or habit-forming drugs. Ask for booklet telling of recoveries, and write to Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa., for evidence. "Am I worth the trouble?" he interrupted.

"Worth the trouble! I don't believe you know yourself yet. You have a wonderful imagination and such knowledge of human nature. You could write a great play, many of them possibly. You know men and women. You have laid bare the souls of some of them when you talked with me. After you bring a being into life, think how you could make him live again on the stage!"

Dorcas jumped to her feet. "Andrew Merry, go to work! Show them what you can do, if for nothing else than to please me and prove that I haven't made a mistake."

"Miss Dorcas, sit down."

The girl looked at her companion curiously.

"Let me shake hands on a bargain," he laughed. "That's a foolish little ceremony I used to go through with the wedding; when she receives a letter from the one man who remained loyal to her father—an old janitor at the bank. He tells her the story which had been hidden from her. The father, penniless, broken down, hopeless, is to leave prison in a few weeks. She confronts her mother, who denies the story, but later confesses. The girl breaks her engagement, leaves home, and goes East. The old janitor takes her to live near the prison until her father is released. Every day she watches the convicts at their lock-step tramp and sees her father. The closing of that act, when she meets him leaving prison, can be tremendous in human interest."

He turned to look at Dorcas.

"Go on," she said.

"The last act is laid in a New England village, among simple country people. The girl and her father are living on a little farm. Her lover comes, having searched for her everywhere. She tells him the story. He marries her and takes the father home with them."

Merry paused. The sun had dropped below the horizon and the western sky glowed in red, gold and purple.

"When," cried Dorcas in a flush of enthusiasm, "when will you begin to write?"

"At once, tomorrow. I'll go away somewhere; I can't do it here."

"Go to Enoch," she said. "He will be delighted. He has such faith in you and he loves you. Besides, you'll have his sympathy. Poor Enoch, the one ambition of his life is to be a famous dramatist."

"No?" said Merry incredulously.

"Don't tell him you know it. I discovered it by accident. I was tidying his desk one day. I came on a pile of manuscript. There were dramas, comedies, tragedies, even comic operas. He has been writing that sort of thing for years and years."

"Queer he never told me! What were they like?"

"Don't think me disloyal, but they are awful! Some day, when he gets a great play, he thinks he will succeed. He won't. It was cruel to tell him so. He's nothing but an expert newspaper man."

"Dear, good, generous old Enoch!"

"You will never tell him—never!"

"I won't," said Merry.

They sat for a few minutes in silence. The flush of the sunset began to fade from the sky. Seagulls wheeled above their heads.

"We must go home," said Andrew.

"Crossing these rocks in the dusk would be perilous."

Dorcas rose and followed him, clasping his outstretched hand. When they leaped down from the sea wall to the beach, the girl asked: "This is our last evening here?"

"I imagine so. You go to New Haven next week, don't you?"

Dorcas nodded.

"Think of me working with all the courage and energy you have awakened. When the play is written I will bring it straight to you."

There was eager anticipation in her eyes. "When you come I will ask a favor. May I play the daughter of the convict?"

"You!" Andrew stopped and looked down at her intently. "You—you—dear child, you sweet, gracious woman!"

Dorcas lifted her cool hands to her blazing cheeks.

"Listen! You don't think I could do it. I could. I have loved Shakespeare since I was a little girl. I know Juliet and Desdemona and Rosalind, but I've lived with Cordelia. I've loved her. I've seen into her soul. Your girl is Cordelia. I could play the part even if I have never been on the stage. Besides I can work; oh, you ought to see how I can work when I have to!"

"It is not that," Andrew protested. "You could play Cordelia—we'll call the girl 'Cordelia' now—as no one I know. It is not that. It is such a hard life—the one you would choose, and it is so different from anything you know."

Dorcas spoke impatiently. "Enoch said that. If I should go on the stage I would be no different from what I am today."

"Let us go home. There's Mrs. Hutchins' supper horn."

They walked on in silence. That evening Merry sat for half an hour with an idle pen in his hand. At last he pulled a sheet of paper toward him and wrote in feverish haste:

Dear old Enoch—Send me $100 to the Broadway today, please. Don't ask questions, don't try to find me; I'll turn up when I've finished some work.

Your slave,
MERRY.

CHAPTER IV.

The Play.

Enoch Wentworth sat before a table littered with sheets of manuscript when a knock sounded on the library door.

"In a second!" he cried. Then he tried to gather the pages together in numerical order.

"All right," cried a cheerful voice.

"Lord, it's Merry!" whispered Enoch. He swept the sheets of paper into a drawer of his desk, then he rose and opened the door. Merry stepped into the room with a dancing light-hearted gait that Enoch had seen him don with his stage garb. Still it was accompanied by a dignity of manner odd to the comedian, a dignity which had self-respect behind it. Wentworth put an arm about him affectionately.

"Have you come into a fortune, boy?" he asked with a laugh.

"Better than that—I'm on the verge of making a fortune."

"Good!" Enoch pushed him into a comfortable chair and stood looking down at him. "Let's have the news, boy."

"I will," answered Merry slowly. "I've got to—I want your advice and help. I need it as I never needed it in my life before. Only—I'm not going to trot out a word of it until we are sure of a couple of hours clear. I can't stand a solitary interruption—today."

Wentworth shut and locked the door, then he opened a small cupboard.

"What'll you have?" he asked, lifting down a couple of glasses.

"Nothing," Andrew pulled a large envelope from his pocket and sat down beside the fire. Wentworth faced him with an expectant look upon his face.

"You never guessed, I suppose, that I'm an incipient playwright?"

"Never!" Enoch's tone was emphatic.

"Well," Merry laughed hilariously, "well, I am, I'm the coming dramatist."

"I take off my hat to you, boy," Enoch swept him a pantomime bow.

"Wait a minute." The comedian's face grew unduly resolute. "Wait, old man, you've got to take this seriously, or I won't tell you a blessed word about it."

Merry rose and laid his hand on Enoch's shoulder with an imploring gesture. "Dear old man, I want your help and guidance. I'm such a blamed unbusiness-like chump. If you hadn't been head and right hand and mother, father and brother to me for years, as well as the truest friend a man ever had, I'd have been in the gutter. Enoch," Merry's face flushed, "if I win out, it means more to me than fame or wealth—it means the happiness of a lifetime."

"Andrew! A woman at last!"

The actor nodded gravely. "Yes, a woman at last."

"Not Drusilla?"

"Oh, curb your curiosity," he laughed lightly; "you can't have everything at once. Now I'm going to read."

Wentworth lit a cigar, leaned back in a leather chair, and turned his eyes steadfastly upon the man opposite him. Merry was a singularly dramatic reader. Across his face flashed each human emotion as he put it into words. Enoch forgot the outer world when Merry leaped into the words with which he had clothed a daughter's greeting to her outcast father—a father disqualified, hopeless, timid, stunned, dumb after the long separation from his fellows.

Wentworth's cigar went out and he forgot to light another. He sat in utter silence, a silence which was half critical, although at moments he was deeply stirred, partly by surprise, partly by unconscious emotion. He breathed a half-stifled sigh. This task, such a splendid achievement, had cost one man a month's labor! He remembered the years of ardent toil he had spent on what, as he realized sadly, was poor. It was worse than poor—it was futile. Even Dorcas had sadly but truthfully acknowledged its impossibility.

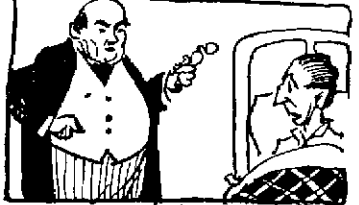

When Merry spoke the last word and the curtain fell, he looked up with triumph and joy shining in his eyes. Then he waited in silence, as if for ardent hands to clasp his own. It was an actor's pause for the thunder when he knows he has won his audience. Enoch's fingers lay clasped together on his knees, his eyes bent on the glowing caves of the coal fire. As the actor spoke his voice had a chill, shivering note in it.

"Say, old man, isn't it good? Tell me—don't you like it?"

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

Dinner Stories

The Doctor: "I find you have five distinct diseases."
The patient: "Great Scott! Does that mean five distinct specialists?"
The Doctor: "Don't let that worry you. The five physicians who are associated in our firm happen to be experts in these very diseases."

The Nomad chieftain gloomily contemplated the dreary Syrian landscape. The wedding guests were long departed. He had but a moment since removed her teeth and put them in a cup of water to soak.

"Dismiss from thy heart, good my lord," the damsel murmured, "thy vain regrets."

Upon the word the pious Moslem extended his clasped hands toward the heavens.

"Allah be praised!" he cried. "If I mistake not, her old man must ere this have discovered that the horse I gave him in exchange for his daughter is balky."

Tears of joy welled unheeded from his eyes as he gave thanks.

Discouraged
BY DRINK HABIT

Drink habit is a discouraging habit both to the drinker and to the drinker's family. Drinking men promise themselves and their families they will stop drinking, but always fail to do so, because the craving for drink is stronger than the will-power to resist. If you are discouraged by repeated failures to stop drinking, investigate the Neal Drink Habit Treatment, which is a sure, harmless vegetable remedy that removes the craving and necessity for drink in a few days without the use of hypodermic injections. Write for full particulars. Get our proofs that the Neal Treatment will make you a sober man. The Neal Institute, Dept. 23, State and 17th streets, Milwaukee, Wis.
